It is also due to his work on the membership committee that the local Eagles have so many good and active members.

Don Luoma, youngest son of Fern and Bob Luoma of Albany, fell and broke his elbow last week, while riding his bike to collect on his newspaper route.

His mother had been told that the young Albany High student would probably be in Herrick Hospital for about a week to 10 days. However, Don is home after only a 3-day stay—Mother Fern wonders if it is because his eight buddies who visited him on Saturday had a ball pushing him up and down the hall in a wheelchair... or just because young bones heal fast???

Marianne Boege, our current AFS student visiting from Germany, doesn't know how lucky she was when she attended the recent March of Dimes Celebrity Bowling at Golden Gate Lanes in El Cerrito.

Lucky Marianne had her picture taken with such sports figures as the Oakland Raiders' Tony Cline, Bobby Bonds of the Giants, and "Super Joe" the well-known stunt cyclist, but she was very unimpressed. Probably would have reacted much differently if they had been high school athletes.

It was really just a coincidence that the purse carried by Chuck Pratt last week, just happened to match his outfit.

Chuck, who manages the Berkeley-Albany offices of the Pacific Telephone Company, was just doing a good deed, by returning the purse to a very forgetful woman who had left it at a Chamber of Commerce meeting they had both attended. It did turn quite a few heads, however.

Another item on Marianne Boege—would you believe she's learning folk dancing at the Albany High School Sunday evening classes, so when she returns to Germany she can teach her friends how to do all those Bavarian dances!

One really wonders who sets up welfare rules, and how... A local young lady, who was laid-off her job while she was ill, applied for welfare because she was absolutely broke. She was turned down by an official in Berkeley—because she had been paying $132 rent per month. "See if you can get your landlord to reduce your rent to $85, including utilities, and then maybe we can help you," she was told. In the meantime, what is she supposed to do? She was also told that since she is "employable," there was no reason for her to be out of a job!! Does that mean that everyone who is accepting welfare is NOT employable?

Kay Brown, wife of Albany painter and decorator George Brown, held a belated surprise birthday party for her husband last Saturday, the first "real" birthday party he ever had. She hadn't originally planned it as a "belated" party, but the Browns had recently moved to another home on San Carlos, and Kay didn't think it was in company order. In fact, she wanted the inside painted, and like the shoemaker's family, George's doesn't get the benefit of his talents, either. However, after much prodding on Kay's part, the house was finally painted and George came home Saturday

Resolution

WHEREAS: Public Broadcasting Station KQED has served the citizens of Albany as well as millions of other Northern California residents since 1954; and

WHEREAS: these KQED services include notable cultural programs involving local, national, and international artists and performers; public affairs programs with full and complete examination of critical issues affecting citizens of Albany; comprehensive television presentation of state and national political candidates and representatives; access to media by a wide variety of specialized groups including ethnic minorities; adult education and quality television instruction for school children; and

WHEREAS: KQED has also produced distinguished programs for viewing throughout the entire United States, which programs have reflected favorably upon all of Northern California; and

WHEREAS: these services have been almost totally dependent upon individual and private contributions for funding and hence such support should be encouraged; therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED that February 11, 1973, through February 18, 1973, be declared KQED Week and that all citizens of Albany be especially urged to view KQED, Channel 9, during that week and that those citizens who contribute to KQED are hereby commended for their support of this worthy civic enterprise.

night to find the house crowded with well-wishers all waiting to celebrate.

And, just like on TV, no one thought of having film in the camera to record the expression on George's face when they all hollered "Surprise!"

Gifts Needed For Servicemen

Mrs. Lavonne Cunningham and a group of Albany High School girls will pay a second visit to Letterman Hospital in San Francisco on Valentine's Day, to bring homemade cookies and gifts to the hospitalized servicemen.

In December, Mrs. Cunningham and her group visited the hospital with homemade goodies and gifts for the men who would not be able to go home for Christmas. At that time they were told by a Red Cross worker that several groups and organizations always remembered the men at Christmas, but forgot about them during the rest of the year.

As a result of that conversation Mrs. Cunningham has planned to make several visits during the year, and would welcome donations of such small items as playing cards, pens, pencils, stationery, men's grooming items, or any other article suitable for a hospitalized veteran.

Persons or groups wishing to make a donation are asked to call Mrs. Cunningham at 527-0583 or Mrs. Ferris, 525-0243.

Symposium On Dancing Offered

Internationally-known dancer and instructor, Ruth Solomon, will teach a master dance class in a Saturday, Feb. 10, Merritt College dance symposium.

The college periodically conducts dance symposiums for students and dance teachers from East Bay high schools and colleges. Co-sponsored by the Merritt women's physical education dept. and the Office of Community Services, the 9:30-11:30 a.m. symposium will offer those participating an opportunity to keep abreast of new trends and current teaching in the dance field. For further information call 531-2553.

Council . . .

tractor kept the construction area "tidied up" especially on weekends. "We've had too many sloppy construction jobs in the City lately," Mayor Carlevaro noted, "and I'm tired of seeing cars and pedestrians being inconvenienced because of piles of lumber, sewer ditches and other hindrances."

"I know all the bad weather we have had has been hampering the construction, but that's no valid excuse," he concluded.

In other business, the Council denied a request by Taxi Unlimited for a permit to operate a second cab within the City. City Administrative Officer was instructed to notify the cab company that the City issues only a limited amount of permits, and only allows extra permits during the racing season.

Four resolutions which were requested last week were introduced and approved. They were: 73-11, appointing Carol Garner as permanent PBX operator-general clerk; 73-12, extending the employment of civilian clerk Elizabeth Dalrymple; 73-13, changing parking zones in the intersection of Solano and San Pablo Avenues; and 73-14, commending the contributors to BART's success.

At the close of the meeting, Councilman Howell requested the Mayor call a personnel session for 6:30 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 13.

Youth Bowling Tourney Opens

Local eliminations are currently being held at the Albany Bowl, for the All-American Youth Bowling Championships. The tournament can be bowled any day from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., with the deadline set for Sunday, Feb. 25.

After qualifying locally, bowlers will follow three more steps: Regional Roll-offs, at the Fremont Bowl in Fremont; State Finals at the Valley Center Bowl, Salinas; and National Finals at Silver Hill Lanes, Washington, D.C.

National finalists will be feted at a banquet, and will also be eligible for 21 $1,000 scholarships.

Retiring Teacher -

with other school personnel, some also retired. Included with the teachers was Mrs. Byers' own student teacher, Carol Rowley, who had been in her class as a pupil many years ago.

Other teachers included: Janice Cooper, speech therapist; Meriel Wessels and Elizabeth Danner, remedial reading teachers; Doris Mayer, former speech therapist; Shirley Parr, former Cordornices School teacher (now known as University Village School, and where Mrs. Byers first taught in Albany); Bob Hughes, retired Albany High School Industrial Arts instructor, and Richard Hillman, also a retired AHS English and public speaking instructor.

Kenneth Forry, Albany School District superintendent, headed the list of school personnel, which included William Woolworth, former Director of Instruction for the District, now also retired; Millicent Reguzzoni, elementary counselor for Cornell, Vista and MacGregor schools; Charlotte Irving and Vera Trapp, school nurses; former school nurses, Frances Tillbury and Norma Carr; coordinator of Guidance and Special Services, Doris Caldwell; Adele Helgren, school secretary; Carolyn Varvaro, former school secretary now with the primary school located at Albany High; another former school secretary, Mrs. Ron Shattuck, who attended with her husband; Nils Knudson, head gardener for the School District, and Lee Crosetti, recently retired custodian for MacGregor and Vista Schools.

Past presidents of MacGregor PTA were also present to honor the retiring teacher, whose great-aunt was Phoebe Apperson Hearst, founder of the National Parent-Teacher Association. They included Mrs. Ollie Foote, founder of the MacGregor PTA; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. William Gimsey, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Johnson, Mrs. Earl Gross, and Mrs. Clay Berling. Also present was the 1972-73 president, Mrs. John Harder, who with her membership helped to plan the affair; and noon yard supervisors, Ruth Klobas, Donna Helwig and Norma Robertson.

Among the gifts presented to the retiring teacher, who estimates she has taught over 800 students since she began her teaching career in a one-room schoolhouse in 1935, was a beautiful green lei, made of one dollar bills, and a vase of 28 beautiful red satin roses.

The lei presentation was made by kindergarten teacher Mrs. Meriel Harpham, one of the organizers of the reception. Mrs. Dorothy Irvin, MacGregor School principal, presented Mrs. Byers with a crystal vase which was quickly filled with the roses, each representing a year of teaching in Albany. She also received a beautiful Tropicana rose tree, to help with the "bit of gardening" part of her retirement plans.

The satin roses were the handiwork of Mrs. Clay Berling, who also made and decorated the two-tiered cake which was served as part of the reception refreshments.

The unrest and demonstrations mentioned in the last issue kept increasing and the police had a hard time trying to combat the rising crime rate. Police brutality was frequently mentioned but rarely proven. The American Legion decided to do something about it and initiated their Law and Order program. Every post in the United States was asked to appoint an active Law and Order committee whose primary purpose was to assist existing law enforcement agencies, to inform the citizens of their obligations to their neighbors by passing on to the police any information concerning criminal activities in their neighborhood. Many daylight robberies were prevented. The Posts were also asked to award citations to deserving police officers and to give the police as a whole credit for trying to do a good job under very trying circumstances.

The war in Southeast Asia is now ended and peace is at last in sight. We may now devote our time to a program vital to our communities in peace as well as war. I have in mind the Blood Donor program. Blood banks have been established and those able to donate have been invited to do so. Many individuals have been supplied with blood on a replacement basis and many lives have been saved. This is a vital service and must be continued. Everybody is invited to take part in it.

Although the war is ended, we now must preserve that peace and prevent another war from starting. That takes Congressional action. We must always keep in mind that the enemies of the free world are never asleep. They are merely biding their time and we must be prepared to meet their challenges.

Note of Thanks

To the Albany Fire and Police Depts.:

I would like to express my sincere appreciation for the quick response to my call for help, when Mrs. Hudson suffered a congestive coronary attack on January 19.

I know if you hadn't arrived so quickly, and hadn't been so well-trained, I would not be able to report that Mrs. Hudson's condition is much improved and she is now back home recuperating.

Thanks again in behalf of the Hudson family.

Signed,
DOROTHY HUDSON

Chamber Board Hears Report

Chamber of Commerce manager, Hal Denham, told members at last week's Board of Directors meeting, that the Soroptimist Club of Albany has donated a replacement flag to be flown from the Albany-Freeway flag pole.

Although it spearheaded the plans and drive to erect the flag pole and put up the first flag, the Chamber recently announced that it would no longer assume responsibility for replacing future flags, and it hoped that interested individuals, as well as clubs and organizations will help with donations.

Because the flag pole is in one of the windiest spots in the area, plans are being made for special reinforcements on all flags to be flown in the future.

Chamber member, Chuck Silvera, also announced at the meeting, that he had secured the name of a clock builder in San Leandro, who may be interested in helping plan a town clock for Albany, if the Chamber decides to go through with the project that was originally suggested by Rimov.

The San Leandro man, James, is known to be one of the best clock builders in the area. He builds the clock from the ground up, plate, foundation, hands, and he has expressed an interest in willingness to put his work on the project, at time comes.

Chamber President Dick will appoint a committee to explore the idea. Hearing committee will be the member of the Chamber, Kratz, who recently resigned from the Chamber because of a business transaction.

At the same meeting, Denham, also announced the Board that 70 Chamber members had renewed their 1973 memberships and that letters were being invited new business members to join.
